

Memory Recreation Project

Choose a memory from earlier brainstorm or choose an object/photograph from home that you connect to strongly through a memory.

Recreate the memory in a series of 3 images. You can use the media or medias of your choice to recreate the memory that share the memory (using different senses, perspectives, angles of vision, etc.).

It should not be a direct recreation of memory. What are the different ways you remember this event? What are different perspectives that you can view the memory? How might other people remember it? How can you visualize that? How has your memory been shaped by photographs or artifacts?

You may not use a rectangular frame for this. Consider using the frame shape or 3-dimensionality to magnify the meaning of the memory for the audience and yourself. What are different ways that you can show this perspective?
